East Texas Energy Symposium May 7 at East Texas Oil Museum

The East Texas Oil Museum and Kilgore College will host the tenth annual East Texas Energy Symposium on Tuesday, May 7, featuring keynote speaker Mark Goloby, President of TC Technologies.

This year's symposium celebrates "10 Years of Oil and Gas Learning for the East Texas Producers."

The symposium will begin at 9 a.m. with a tour of the ETOM, followed by the symposium from 10 to 11:45 a.m., featuring three speakers.

Speakers will include John Howie, SVP Tellurian and President of Tellurain Production Company; Mukul Sharma, Professor of Geosystems and Petroleum Engineering at the University of Texas at Austin's Hildebrand Department of Petroleum and Geosystems Engineering; and William A. Ambrose, Senior Research Scientist at the Bureau of Economic Geology.

Goloby will speak during a luncheon beginning at 11:45 a.m. on "How the Green New Deal can Destroy the Millennial's Standard of Living Before They Ever Get to Live It."

Local media is invited to attend both the morning presentations and the luncheon.

The ETOM is located at 1301 S. Henderson Blvd. (corner of Hwy. 259 and Ross Ave.) in Kilgore.

For more information, contact Olivia Moore, ETOM director, at 903-983-8295 or email omooore@kilgore.edu.
